All "Longlife" halogen bulbs have a longer service life than standard bulbs, which makes them especially ideal for frequent drivers. The bulb is also well suited to daytime running light users since it lasts so long.

Your advantages at a glance:

- Longer service life
- Needs replacement less frequently

Let "Daylight" help you get through the day safely. That's the motto of this series of bulbs. Despite continuous use during the day and at night, we managed to keep the replacement interval of this bulb type the same as with standard bulbs. Daylight bulbs are a further extension of the Longlife family, so to speak, which makes them highly suitable for use as daytime running bulbs. These "marathon runners" are also available for all light functions.

Your advantages at a glance:

- Last up to three times as long
- For frequent drivers
- For drivers who use daytime running lights
- Available for every light function
